Public Comment
In light of the large crowd present, some of whom had signed up to comment on the Critical Areas Ordinance, Mayor Gere asked City Attorney Darcy Swetnam to address procedure. Ms. Swetnam reminded that public comment regarding the Critical Areas Ordinance was governed by the established legislative process which included public hearings before the Planning Commission that had already concluded. Ms. Swetnam said that the municipal code now allowed Council to establish additional public comment opportunities, which would likely be discussed later on the agenda, but that public comment on the critical areas regulations could not be accepted at the present meeting.

No one present wished to address the Council on any other topic.

Critical Areas Regulations - Planning Commission Recommendation
Planning Director Don Measamer introduced Associate Planner Tess Cooper to present the Critical Areas Regulations Update. Ms. Cooper introduced the critical areas regulations, referring to her slide presentation which was added to the packet materials for the meeting. She summarized the governing legislation, the project timeline since commencement of the update in 2016, and the Planning Commission recommendation to City Council.

Ms. Cooper called Council’s attention to Item D in the packet materials presenting topics needing review by Council and recommending additional public comment on some of those. Mr. Measamer then outlined a number of procedural options open to Council per AMC 19.16.090 and explained how the noticing requirements would affect hearing dates. Councilmembers expressed interest in offering additional public comment opportunity and in proceeding with review at a pace to allow consideration of the voluminous comment already received and fully review the draft document. Ms. Cooper presented a possible schedule for City Council review of the draft document. Councilmembers discussed alternative schedules with Mr. Measamer and Mayor Gere. Mayor Gere summarized Council’s apparent consensus to have staff notice a public hearing before City Council beginning March 16, 2020 (the earliest possible date consistent with the notice requirements) which public hearing would be continued from meeting to meeting as Council considered each topic until Council determined it was ready to close the public hearing and begin deliberations. Mr. Measamer concurred. Council urged establishing and publishing a full schedule as early as possible.

There being no further business, at approximately 7:15 p.m. the Anacortes City Council meeting of February 18, 2020 was adjourned.
