Guest Star

George Stockman

To George, who in his years at AHS has gained the friendship of all those who know him for his generous assistance in publishing the annual and school paper, as well as directing the dramatic productions; his unfailing generosity, helpfulness, and cooperation with the students—his warm friendliness toward all—and above all, his sense of humor and hearty laugh for which we will always remember him.

For these and many other reasons, we, the annual staff, take pleasure in dedicating the 1950 Review season to George Stockman.

BOGARD OF CONTROL

This year the Board of Control was faced with many problems, new and old. Such problems as who was to sponsor the pep assemblies, who should sponsor our high school annual, hall discipline for students, and even a really big problem student government. All these problems were discussed and worked on both by the students and the Board of Control.

Starting early in its year of activities, the Senior Class of 1940 began taking orders for cards and announcements by the end of the first month.

Next came the senior play “You Can’t Take It With You,” by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, which was given at the Empire Theatre on an afternoon and evening performance.

To raise money for its treasury the Senior Class sponsored a dance after the Arlington basketball game. Winding up the year was the Senior Ball with the theme of “Stardust,” and Commencement, May 26.

ARLINGTON

The Sea Hawks officially opened the season with a thrilling Arlington game. Coming from behind in a whirlwind of dust the local team ended the game 26-12.

BURLINGTON

Meeting their first Snohomish County opponents the Sea Hawks chalked up a second win over the determined Burlington Tigers. When the gun sounded the score read 12-6.

EDMONDS

On a rain-swept field, down Edmonds way, the Armatites eleven suffered their first defeat at the hands of the powerful Edmonds Tigers. Score 23-0.

SEDRO WOOLLEY

Rated as even, the favored, invading Sedro Woolley Cubs, a surprising Hawk team came out victors with a score of 18-7.
Action!

SNOHOMISH

Hopes for second place in the Northwest Conference faded when game five was played. Stan Hayes' Snohomish Panthers stole the game with a score of 27-6.

MOUNT VERNON

A capacity crowd witnessed the rival game of the year between the Anacortes Sea Hawks and the Mount Vernon Bulldogs. It was a thriller from start to finish, but the Hawks returned home in a blaze of glory. Final score read 25-13.

MARYSVILLE

The last game of the season and the key to third place in the conference. Although the score was tied at the half the Hawks showed their ability and ended the game 28-13.

Track

Although the season was not too successful there were contenders in various events. The fact that Cravey and Holmes were ineligible was a big handicap as well as the fact that there is no track field. The team held its first meet at Ferndale, April 19, and placed second; a relay carnival was held at Slink Woolley—7 points were earned.

Amocutes opened its baseball season with their new coach Bill Taylor.

With no practice game under their belts the Hawk's opened with the Sedro Woolley Cubs who have been champs for three straight years. The Hawk's lost to the Cubs but came back with three straight league game wins over Concrete, Burlington, and La Connor.

The highlight of the season was the thrilling game with the Mount Vernon Bulldogs on the Hawk's field with the Bulldogs coming from behind to win 8 to 6.

Amocutes has nine lettermen returning next year and was an all-around team with good sluggers like Graves, Meyer, Hard and Symonds.

Coach Taylor had the team well handled after the season started with a smooth running ball club.

Amocutes should look forward to a fine ball club next year with ten lettermen returning.

Tennis

Left to right: Lunford, Bass, Strainen, Brennan, Mass.

This year's tennis team was composed entirely of sophomores and juniors. Under the able coaching of Mr. Weber, the team made a good showing. With all the boys back next year we can count on a good, well-seasoned team on the courts.

Mr. V. Weber
The club started the year with the initiation.

They sponsored a dance, took part in many school activities, and held regular intramural volleyball, basketball, baseball, and badminton.

The high school band, under the direction of Mr. Floyd Lunsford, had a very successful year. The band played at most of the athletic games and made several trips out of town. Their first trip was to Vancouver, B. C., with the football team. They took part in the annual Homecoming Celebration at Western Washington College and went to the fair in Puyallup. The band gave two successful concerts this year and their spring concert will help provide money for a trip this summer if it can be arranged. They ended up the year with a trip to the Apple Blossom Festival in Wenatchee and played at Battle Mountain and Commencement.

Due to high costs of printing, the See Blawk staff was forced to publish a mimeo-graphed paper; this did by no means lower the quality of the contents. The staff has consistently produced a better than average paper, despite obstacles set before it.

Gene, first semester editor, did an unsurpassable job in getting the paper selling and setting new high standards.

Mary, second semester editor, instituted several innovations in the staff's system that greatly smoothed its running.
The F. H. A. Club started the year with installation of officers and initiation of 50 new members.

A fashion show highlighted 'November' activity. During the same month, the World Christmas Festival was held. At the state convention in April, Maxine Allan, Janice Smiley, and Anita Lawrence represented the local chapter. The March potluck dinner was held as a background for the initiation of the new Junior High F. H. A. Chapter. The year was climaxed with a trip to the Ice Follies. Advisor: Mrs. M. S. Horton.

Tri-Hi-Y

The Tri-Hi-Y held their initiation and installations October 18. The activities included a Christmas party, two dances, and a picnic.

The Club raised money by giving a dance after the Burlington game and a concert and cabaret April 1.

The Tri-Hi-Y and Hi Y presented a play called 'Standardization of High School Credit Requirements.' Two delegates from Tri-Hi-Y were present at the Olympia conference.
Key Club

One of the most progressive clubs in school, the Key Club activities for the year included a fall cruise, two spring cruises, two honor parties, two dancing parties, two dances, and pencil sales.

ROW I—Williams, Bower, Noon, Anderson.
ROW II—Jacobs, Mr. E. Smith, advisor, Farrow, Macwhite, Bland, Jackson, Allard.

Hi-Y

This ambitious service club spent an active year in campus assemblies and in sending Eugene Stryan and Vaughn Thomson to the annual legislative in Olympia—Their bill was passed!

Officers: Jack Stryan, president; Eugene Stryan, vice-president; Clarence Parker, secretary.

ROW I—Schie, Andrew, Heiner, Cowan, Craig, Shemanski, J.

The Big A, a recognition Club, under the leadership of Jack Symonds, organized a paddle squad and awarded special sports letters to the Seniors.

Girl's Club Cabinet
Quill and Scroll

The late organization of the Quill and Scroll did not hinder its members from constructive work on school publication.

Quill and Scroll, National Honor Society for high school journalists, is composed of active journalism students with high scholastic standings.

Junior Red Cross

The Junior Red Cross drive this year enrolled the highest percentage of the senior high in a number of years. At a regional meeting in November seven members and both advisers attended. Sales at a football game, a dance and raffle sales were money making projects for a gift chest to be sent to Europe next year. On all important holidays tray favors made by Junior Red Cross members were found in Hospital trays. Assistance was given the American Red Cross Chapter in its annual drive in March. A delegate will be sent to Junior Red Cross training camp this summer so more assistance may be given next year in the high school.
The year's activities were commenced with election of officers.

Through the influence of the Pep Club several rosters' bases were taken to the games.
