The Anacortes Plywood Story

Developed in Conjunction with the Anacortes History Museum and Bret Lunsford as Part of the “Working Waterfront” Series
ANACORTES VENEER, Inc.

Manufacurers
Douglas Fir Plywood
Hardboard

High Density Overlaid Plywood
Long Panels — Boat Hull

ANACORTES, WASHINGTON
The Anacortes Plywood Story

This presentation was developed during the 2018-2019 time frame with the knowledge and material available at the time. It should be considered as a draft and a ‘work in progress.’ If you find errors or have anything to add, please do so by contacting Dick Erickson (twoswedes@aol.com) or Bret Lunsford at the Anacortes Museum (bretl@cityofanacortes.org).

If you have materials to contribute to the ‘Plywood Story’ such as information, memories, pictures or stories, please forward the information to the Anacortes Museum (coa.museum@cityofanacortes.org).
Location of Anacortes Plywood Mill
Anacortes Plywood Mill

1. Before the Plywood Mill (pre history)
2. Co-op Mill Concept
3. Plywood Mill History
4. Plywood Employees
5. Plywood Families
6. Life in Anacortes
7. Scandinavian Component

References
Organized by Dick Erickson

With help and input from the following individuals

Steve Berentson
Lloyd Crosby
Nancy Heglin Erickson
Jim Fors
Wayne and Mairivonne Melvin
Deanna Bowman Murray
Dave Nelson
Wayne Norgard
Bob Tillson
Judie Lewis Zersen